Hey all! I just sent this out to the volunteers whose emails I had, I'm hoping you're able to forward along to your points of contact so everyone is working from the same information. Happy to answer any questions!

Best,

Kennidy

Hi everyone,

We are officially less than two weeks away from the Skills Expo at Londonderry High School. Last year was great, but with 1,200+ people expected this time around, we're stepping things up—and honestly, we couldn't do it without you.

Action Item: Review the indoor and outdoor layout drafts to familiarize yourself with the space and who is coming.

To keep things moving smoothly, we've organized roles around three key areas — we'll talk more about this during our Volunteer Huddle time.

- The Outside Crew: You're the first faces people see. Your goal is to keep the lot safe and moving—especially when the heavy machinery starts rolling in.
- Registration & Support: You're the energy at the front door. We want to keep the lines moving and make sure every student walks in with a smile and a bag of gear.
- The BBTT Hub: You're the center of the action at the merch and info table and BBTT prize wheel. If someone has a question or needs a shirt, you're their go-to.

The Plan for Saturday, April 18:

- 6:00 AM – Arrival: Please park outside of the primary parking lot in front of the gym so we can keep the space clear for the big rigs and our guests. There will be signage day of and the team can help direct you.
- 6:15 AM – The Huddle: We'll meet in the gym lobby to sign in, grab our orange shirts, and walk through the plan over some coffee and snacks.
- 6:20 AM – Getting to Work: We'll head to our spots to get everything set up before the vendors arrive.
- 9:00 AM – Doors Open: The best part of the day!
- 2:00 PM – Wrap Up: We'll high-five, clean up, and head home.

We're so grateful to have you on the team helping us get folks excited about the skilled trades. See you soon!

Best,

Kennidy Asche

Jaimie,

Please send the following to all BBTT volunteers. TY

Hi Michael,

I totally get the question!

While the event officially starts at 9, we actually need the most help right before the doors open. Vendors start arriving at 7:00 AM (big machinery even earlier), so we'll need folks on the earlier side—even 7:00 or 7:30—to help us with traffic, getting signage out, and supporting everyone with move-in.

Having them there early would be a huge help in making sure the morning isn't chaos. We really appreciate the Windham Rotary team for jumping in!
