Honeoye Falls-Lima High School

Green Team (Eco-Geeks)

Presentation November 17th 7:00 PM on Zoom

District 7120 Environmental Action Committee Meeting

The Green Team (also known as the Eco-Geeks) is a student-driven environmental club at Honeoye Falls-Lima High School (HF-L) in Honeoye Falls, New York.

Key Details

- Focus: Members focus on learning about current environmental issues and teaching or raising awareness within the school and local community.
- Community Involvement: The group actively participates in local environmental events, such as community presentations (like talks at Muller Field) and local Earth Day and Arbor Day celebrations hosted by the Village of Honeoye Falls Conservation Board.
- NYS Climate Smart Community Leaders: Currently leads the effort with the Village of Honoeye Falls for NYS Climate Smart Certification (Bronze Certification expected early 2027). https://climatesmart.ny.gov/

As the Environment is one of Rotary's 7 Areas of focus come and find out about how this youth-driven team started, what they have been doing and how to start a Green Team at your school.
